

"We the People" - July 2024

The month of our country's birthday celebration is always a good time to reflect on who we are in the United States of America... especially as we find ourselves in the middle of a presidential election year. How do you relate to "We the people" in the twenty-first century? Who are we? How do you see our accomplishments, our challenges, our hopes or even our failures?

Use any medium, in any number of dimensions, to show us your thoughts.
